

This act not to extend to Scotland.

LIV. Provided also, and it is hereby enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall extend to that part of Great Britain called Scotland.

C A P. XXVII.

An act to continue certain laws therein mentioned, for granting, for a limited time, a liberty to carry rice from his Majesty's provinces of South and North Carolina and Georgia, directly to any part of America to the southward of the said provinces, subject to the like duty as is now paid on the exportation of rice from the said colonies to places in Europe situate to the southward of Cape Finisterre.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the laws herein after mentioned, which have been found useful and beneficial, and which are near expiring, should be continued: may it therefore please your Majesty, that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That an act made in the fourth year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, An act for granting, for a limited time, a liberty to carry rice from his Majesty's provinces of South Carolina and Georgia, directly to any part of America to the southward of the said provinces, subject to the like duty as is now paid on the exportation of rice from the said colonies to places in Europe situate to the southward of Cape Finisterre; and also a clause in an act made in the fifth year of his present Majesty's reign, intituled, An act for more effectually securing and encouraging the trade of his Majesty's American dominions; for repealing the inland duty on coffee, imposed by an act made in the thirty second year of his late majesty King George the Second; and for granting an inland duty on all coffee imported (except coffee of the growth of the British dominions in America); for altering the bounties and drawbacks upon sugars exported; for repealing part of an act made in the twenty third year of his said late Majesty, whereby bar iron made in the said dominions was prohibited to be exported from Great Britain, or carried coastwise; and for regulating the fees of officers of the customs in the said dominions; which gave liberty to carry rice from North Carolina, in the same manner, and under the like entries, securities, restrictions, regulations, limitations, duties, penalties, and forfeitures, as were enacted by the said act made in the fourth year of his present Majesty's reign, with respect to carrying rice to the southward of South Carolina and Georgia; which have continuance for five years from the twenty fourth day of June, one thousand seven hundred and sixty four, and from thence to the end of the then next session of parliament; shall be, and the same are hereby continued from the expiration thereof for the term of five years, and from thence to the end of the then next session of parliament,
